Voted to accept the report of the building committee of the new Avery School, and print the same in the town report.

Final Report of Committee on Building New Avery School.

Your committee begs leave to report as follows: With the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) placed at its disposal by a vote of the town, it has caused to be erected on the northerly side of Highland avenue and directly opposite the old Avery School, a building of red brick with sand-stone trimmings. The building is from plans and specifications of Lemont D. Litchfield, Esq., of this town, and the construction by J. J. Prindeville, Esq., of South Framingham.

The committee consisting of William Gorse, chairman, Mrs. A. E. Harris, Joseph B. Thorpe, E. G. Pond, Henry Godfrey, Jr., Horace A. Carter, W. G. Moseley and William P. Bailey as clerk, working in perfect harmony throughout its term of service kept constantly before it as its ideal a building that would combine all the requirements of a modern school house, being especially strong in its foundations and roof, of simple yet attractive design, a building that would require comparative little in annual expenditure for repairs, and one that would provide for future additions if needed without material alterations. Wise economy was its watchword. These ideals have been incorporated into wood and stone and the committee is firm in its belief that the town has received more than equal value for its investment.

The rooms provided are four class rooms, each with a maximum seating capacity of fifty-six pupils, the light in each room being secured over the back and left side of the pupils, two commodious hall-ways with modern coat rooms and wide, easy stair-cases, recreation and toilet rooms for both girls and boys, a retiring room for teachers and a spacious supply room. The ventilating, heating and plumbing are in accordance with the rigid requirements of the State Police Department. All the flooring is of maple and the standing finish of Georgia pine. Attention is particularly called to the foundations which are of concrete and to the roof which is supported by a system of heavy truss work.

In its work the committee was greatly assisted by the conscientious supervision of the architect and was fortunate in having a contractor who appeared always anxious to honestly fulfill his agreement.

It appears appropriate to also record here the generosity of Mr. Horace A Carter, from whom the town received gratuitously a strip of land approximating a total of 5,000 square feet which he gave after the selectmen had purchased from him all the land which the funds at their disposal would procure, it being his especial desire that the grounds of both the old and the new school buildings should have similar frontages. The town is also greatly indebted to Mr. A. J. Mercer for a similar gift of land lying to the north of the school building.

Respectfully submitted for the Committee,

WM. P. BAILEY,
Clerk.

Needham, Mass., Jan. 7, 1907.

Voted that the report of the committee on grading the Avery School lot be referred back to see what action will be necessary to secure proper drainage and improve the appearance of said lot, with an estimate of the cost of same, said committee to report at the annual meeting.

At 9.30 voted that this meeting be dissolved.

Dissolved.

Attest: THOMAS SUTTON,
Town Clerk.

Report of the Committee on Electric Lighting to the Town of Needham, Jan. 7, 1908

The committee appointed at the town meeting, April 1, 1907, to consider the question of electric lighting, has given the whole subject careful, diligent and patient consideration, recognizing that it is not a matter in which sentiment, or preconceived opinions should govern, but solely that which best solves the question — what method will give the citizens of Needham the best light, both for streets and buildings, for the least money, now and in future?

To assist us in our inquiry we employed the services of an electrical engineer of experience, Mr. Charles G. Sherman of Boston, who has made a full investigation of the present condition of the town's plant, and of the several propositions we have submitted to him as possible solutions of the complex problem.

We have considered the entire question under four premises, viz:

First. Whether it would be advisable for the town to establish a plant of its own for the generation and distribution of electricity. This would require the purchase of the present distributing system so far as it is now owned by the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston, in the town of Needham, and that the town undertake the entire manufacture and distribution of electricity for lighting streets and supplying the citizens with current for residences and other buildings.

Second. As to the advisability of the town establishing a distributing plant only, buying current at wholesale and assuming charge of lighting streets and selling current at retail to consumers within our limits. This course, also, would necessitate purchase of the Edison Co.'s plant here and putting in complete order our own street lighting system.

Third. Renewal of our present contract for street lighting, which terminates Oct. 1, 1908.

Under clause 13 of this contract the town has the option of renewal for a further period of five years, from Oct 1. next.

Fourth. Selling the street lighting plant now owned by the town, and contracting with the Electric Light Co. to supply current.

The whole subject has been thoroughly and ably covered by Mr. Sherman in his report to the committee, which document we desire to submit herewith as a part of our report.

It must be obvious to everyone who has occasion to pass along our streets after dark that they cannot be considered properly lighted at the present time. Our whole distributing system, from poles and wires to lamps and reflectors, has been neglected by the town until it is imperative that decided action should be taken without unnecessary delay.

To bring our lines up to a reasonable degree of efficiency will cost so much that the committee cannot recommend to the taxpayers a continuance of the present contract, neither do we think it wise to establish a municipal plant, nor a distributing plant, either of which involves a large outlay, with a considerable margin of uncertainty in the result, dependent upon conditions not always under control. The interests of individual consumers must be considered as well as the town's purse, and we are advised, unofficially by the accredited representative of the Edison Co., that the rate for current for domestic lighting, which was reduced by the company in 1906 from 18 cents per K. W. to 15 cents will very soon be further reduced to 12 cents, and that even this figure is not the minimum we may expect to receive.

Under the several plans considered, the actual cost to the town for lighting its streets, reduced to dollars, show the following results. It has cost the town the past year an average of $14.00 per lamp per year. If we should renew the present contract, and expend the requisite sum each year to bring the plant to a proper degree of efficiency, it would average $20.00 per year at first and at the end of five years $16.00 per lamp per year. Under municipal ownership $16.73 per lamp per year. By establishing a distributing plant $10.53 per lamp per year. By selling our plant and making a twenty year contract with the Edison Co., $9.73 per lamp per year. In view of these results, and taking into consideration the further facts that if we sell to the Edison Co. the town will be at once relieved of all care, expense, and risk in providing for maintenance and repairs to our depreciated plant; that a responsible company with an equipment of the first order is ready to assume all responsibility for a term of years under a form of contract which will protect the town's interests; that the company will immediately proceed to put our electrical service into a first class condition, and at a less cost to us than by any other method; and further, that under the contract we should possess the right to purchase the plant at ninety days notice, we, your committee, do not hesitate to give our full and unanimous approval to the recommendation of Mr. Sherman.

That the town sell its electric light plant entire to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, provided a satisfactory contract can be made with the said Edison Co. for lighting our streets, on the basis of the existing contract of the said Edison Co. with the town of Arlington, Massachusetts.

SUMMARY.

Bonds outstanding,	305,000
Bonds maturing in 1908,	12,500
Interest payments in 1908,	12,065

The above statement does not include an authorized issue of water loan bonds amounting to $15,000, and an issue of refunding bonds amounting to $8,000 to be dated

Sept. 1, 1907, and bearing interest at 4 per cent. Tho condition of the money market was such during the summer and fall that your treasurer found it impossible to sell these securities and was forced to borrow on temporary loans to meet the obligations for which they were to be issued.

Another issue of refunding bonds should be made Sept. 1, 1908, and unless authority is secured whereby the rate of interest can be made more than four per cent, it is very probable that a sale cannot be made.

CHARLES E. STANWOOD, Town Treasurer.

Report of the Board of Selectmen and Overseers of the Poor for Year 1907.

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Needham:

The year just closed has been uneventful so far as the interests of the town in its corporate capacity are concerned in that nothing has occurred in the administration of public affairs to call for action outside the ordinary routine, and we trust that the efforts of the board to discharge the variety of duties pertaining to the office have met your approval.

We present herewith a review of the work of the several departments under the supervision of the board, with such suggestions as appear to be pertinent.

ROADS AND BRIDGES

Early in the season the condition of the iron bridge at the foot of Dedham avenue was brought to our attention. The bridge having been in service for more than thirty-five years it was thought that an examination should be made by an expert in such matters so that we might be informed as to existing conditions. Accordingly the services of a state inspector were secured who after a view of the structure and its supports, advised that the bridge was in fair condition considering the length of time it had been in service, but recommended as a measure of caution that no loads be allowed to pass over it exceeding four tons in weight. Therefore signs have been placed at each approach to notify all passengers of the limit of load allowed to pass.

In the not distant future a new structure better adapted to meet the demands of the travelling public will be called for.

The establishment of a passenger station on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. at Needham Junction has so changed the current of travel as to create a necessity for several new streets as avenues of approach to said station.

The Railroad Co. at its own expense constructed a road from Chestnut street to the station, but there was no convenient way for people living east of Warren street to get to the trains.

The board of selectmen of 1906 laid out an extension of Warren street to meet the approach constructed by the R. R. Co. east of the station, and at a special meeting in December the way was accepted. As soon as possible after the opening of the season the work of construction was commenced, and a first class macadam roadway built; in connection therewith the old part of Warren street as far as Dedham avenue was regraded and macadamized in a thorough manner. For particulars in regard to the work and expenditures of the department of streets, roads and bridges reference may be had to the report of the superintendent of streets hereto appended.

On petition of Mr. John T. Morse, Jr., and others, tax payers and residents on Webster street, South street and Greendale avenue, for the laying out of a way from Webster street west, to intersect with Warren street near the Junction station, the board took a view of the premises and noted the situation. After careful deliberation and consideration of all the circumstances the conclusion was arrived at, that public convenience and necessity required that such way be laid out; accordingly a survey and plan with the necessary description of the proposed street has been filed in the office of the town clerk; said way to be called and known as Norfolk street. The town will be asked to accept the said street at the January meeting.

The development of the town in different directions and the laying out of new lands for building lots, demands the construction of new streets. We are moved to ask this question, — Should streets laid out solely for the purpose of making lands available for building lots, and which are in no sense thoroughfares be built at the expense of the public?

Existing roads call for constant repair, and large portions of the main streets in many places throughout the town need resurfacing to make them even tolerable as compared with our best roads. No less amount than that expended during the last year will suffice to keep the roads we now have from deteriorating, and it will be necessary to practise the most rigid economy in distribution to satisfy the reasonable demands in the different parts of the town.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire department is in charge of the same board of engineers that has served for some years past and has sustained its well-earned reputation for prompt and efficient service.

The equipment consists of a combination hose, chemical and ladder wagon, one hook and ladder truck, located in Station 1 on Chestnut street. A combination hose, chemical and ladder wagon located at Station 2 on Highland avenue, Needham heights; a hose wagon located at the Falls on Reservoir street; a hose wagon to be located at Charles River, and one hose reel to be located at Greendale. All of the above-named pieces of apparatus are well supplied with the necessary hose and other appliances for efficient service, and have a full complement of men assigned to each who are ready to respond to every call.

For details of service see report of the chief presented herewith.

The fire department is composed of young men whose service is purely voluntary and prompted by public spirit and a sense of civic duty. They deserve and should receive the encouragement of all good citizens, kind words, appreciative manners and good fellowship; for do they not stand for the protection of our property and the safety of our families in an emergency that may arise at any time. To realize the force of this remark we have only to recall what happened at recent fires in towns near to us.

STREET LIGHTS

The subject of street lighting having been referred to a special committee with full powers to investigate and report recommendations to be acted on at the January meeting, renders it unnecessary to say anything on this line, except to give a statement of expenditures for maintenance, and such extensions and additions as were ordered by vote of the town. Only such repairs and reconstruction have been made as were demanded for the safety of the people passing or living near the lines, and to continue the service until the pending question shall be decided. The annual expense of lighting streets under any system or management must necessarily be large, as we are now maintaining more than 500 incandescent lamps and the tendency is constantly to increase the number.

FIRE ALARM AND WIRE DEPARTMENT

The resignation of Mr. McKenney as superintendent of fire alarm and inspector of wires furnished an opportunity to entirely separate that office from connection with any public service corporation, and on June 1, Mr. Willard B. Cookson was appointed, and immediately took charge of the office. The wire lines of the fire alarm had become weakened by long exposure and were found to need renewal in many places and a general setting up throughout the system. The plant is now in good working order. Careful reading of the report of the superintendent will inform the inquirer more particularly in regard to this branch of service.

INSPECTION OF WIRES

This matter has not received the measure of attention heretofore that its importance demands. Our streets and squares are lined with wires all charged, to a greater or less extent, with an agent which is alike destructive of life and property when diverted from its proper course, and constant vigilance is necessary in order that the chances of accident may be reduced to the minimum. Dwellings and other buildings are so generally wired for electric lighting that it becomes a public concern, that the work of wiring should be done according to the scientific standard. The system of inspection and certification is fully set forth in the inspector's report.

THE GYPSY MOTH PEST

The subject of suppression of the gypsy moth and the responsibility for the method and order of the work seems not to be generally understood. Your selectmen do not claim to know a great deal about the subject, but do know that the pest is here; also that the spread of the moths has been checked, and in a good degree prevented, by the efforts of the local superintendent, Mr. E. E. Riley, who employs and directs the workers in our town. Your selectmen are also aware that the work is expensive, and is of such nature that the results are not apparent to the ordinary observer. But on the other hand, they are convinced by personal observation that the effect of non-action for only one year, would show such devastation of our fruit and shade trees as would leave the most persistent objector without an argument. But in this as in every other emergency, it would be the height of un-wisdom to defer action until every objection should be silenced.

The law of 1905 for the suppression of the gypsy moth provides that the work shall be done under the supervision of the state superintendent, who prescribes methods of work and appoints district superintendents and inspectors, assigns them to specific territory and directs them to see that the local superintendent performs the work thoroughly and by proper method. All bills for labor and materials are rendered in duplicate, said duplicate being sent to the office of the state superintendent where a record is kept of the amount expended by every city or town. We take pleasure in presenting the report of our local superintendent with the hope that it will be read by every owner of land in the town, believing it to contain valuable information as to the habits of the pests and mode of extermination, familiarity with which will enable such owners or any person interested to render efficient aid in the work of suppression.

POLICE

Our police system is not very extensive or complicated. We have but two officers on full week duty and they are on night watch,—Officer Mackenzie at Needham Centre, and Officer Lynes at Needham Heights. No serious or flagrant crimes have been committed, and the usual good order has been maintained.

SUPPORT OF POOR

As overseers of the poor, we are able to report that no unusual demands have been made for support or aid; no cases of destitution have come to our knowledge that have not been relieved. At present there are five persons receiving full support, viz.:—two in private families, two in Wellesley almshouse, one in Newton almshouse. All other cases are classed as partially supported, and are relieved by payment of rent, some fuel, and aid in the way of necessaries of life, as occasion requires.

The amount expended for support of poor in Needham is small when compared with other towns of the same population.

BOARD OF HEALTH

The health conditions of the town at present appear to be very good. Nothing like an epidemic has prevailed. Officer Twigg was appointed to act as agent of the board. All cases reported are referred to him for examination, and he is required to report to the board the conditions of each case, the board then taking such action or making such order as is deemed necessary. No serious difficulty has been found in regulating matters brought to our attention.

Report of Superintendent of Streets

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN: — I submit the following report of the street department for the year ending Dec. 31, 1907.

The streets received the usual spring cleaning and scraping, and the village streets and gutters were kept clean and trim through the season. More money than usual was spent on permanent and one and one-half miles has been added to our list of macadam streets.

HUNNEWELL STREET from Brooks' factory to A. Trainor's, 1,300 feet was macadamized with the crushed stone which was piled in Hewett's pit; screened gravel from the same pit was used as a binder.

CHESTNUT STREET from Great Plain avenue to the State highway, 2,300 feet was macadamized with 8 inches of crushed stone. This should be a permanent job and was a much needed improvement.

WARREN STREET was extended through the Wing land to the railroad, furnishing an approach from the north to the new Junction station. The whole street from Dedham avenue was properly graded and macadamized with stone from the crusher on South street. Sidewalks were built on the new portion, and the drainage was provided for by building a substantial culvert at the brook.

CHAPEL STREET, 400 feet long, was surfaced with crushed stone.

Rosemary street, from Nehoiden street to Hillside avenue, 2,000 feet was relocated and laid out to a width of 40 feet. The street was constructed with gravel.

The change of location and grade made necessary the use of a large amount of material: the gravel for the subgrade and fills was given by William Carter.

The willows along the edge of the pond were removed, giving a much better appearance to that portion of the street; 1,300 feet of fencing was built along this street.

South and Webster streets at their junction were macadamized; 1,200 feet of Great Plain avenue was reconstructed. The road was straightened and built of gravel; a heavy fill was required. The gravel for the subgrade was given by J. W. Page.

South street, from D. M. Livingston's to R. P. Snelling's, 1,800 feet, was surfaced with gravel from Kennedy's pit.

High street, from Webster street to Greendale avenue, 1,800 feet, was surfaced with gravel from Cornwall's pit.

A special appropriation of $400 was made to improve Carter street. The street, 860 feet in length, was well built of gravel at a good grade. A subgrade of small pit stone was laid, surfaced with binding gravel from the Hurd pit.

A special appropriation of $300 was made to be used on Dale street. The street was built of gravel, 400 feet long, and a sidewalk was built on the east side of the street.

SIDEWALKS

New gravel walks were built on the east side of Lincoln street, 700 feet, on the extension of Warren street, 900 feet, and on Webster street north of Conant street, 600 feet.

The sidewalks on Greendale avenue 1,800 feet, and on Rosemary street were regraded, and a number of walks were resurfaced. No new asphalt walks were built, but nearly $700 was spent in resurfacing walks and crosswalks.

Four catch basins were built and 200 feet of pipe for surface drainage was laid; 1,400 feet of fencing was built.

STREET WATERING

An appropriation of $600 was made by the town for street watering. Four new stand cranes were erected and an arrangement was made with A. E. Eaton who purchased a watering cart to sprinkle the streets. Some seven miles were covered and kept fairly well sprinkled, but it is impossible to give the service and cover the territory desired by the citizens with one wagon.

I would suggest that sufficient appropriation be made to have a cart in each of the two villages, which will extend the territory and give the service desired.

The following amounts were spent on the streets for teams and labor:

Chestnut street,	$1,860 50
Chapel street,	237 75
Central avenue,	84 50
Charles River street,	143 00
Hunnewell street,	586 00
Greendale avenue,	54 25
Great Plain avenue,	529 75
High street,	220 50
Rosemary street,	1,730 25
South street,	246 75
Cor. South and Webster streets,	508 50

Warren street,	1,730 25
Warren street, special appropriation,	700 00
Carter street, special appropriation,	400 00
Dale street, special appropriation,	300 00
Patching streets and small repairs.
Scraping streets and removing waste.

Report of the Superintendent for Suppressing Gypsy and Brown-tail Moths

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith submit the report of the moth department for the year ending December 31, 1907.

The work of moth extermination for the year 1907 was carried on in about the same manner as that of 1906 except that there was much more territory covered, and the gypsy moths received more attention, being a more serious pest than the brown-tail and much more difficult to handle.

The burlaps were carefully attended during the summer, and as in the previous year, the burlapping was found a most efficient means of fighting the gypsy moth.

At the close of the season for the burlap turning the burlaps on all street trees and trees near the streets were removed and burned. Those on all other trees, after a careful examination were left to do service for another year.

A general inspection of all the residential parts of the town was then begun. This work continued until October 17, and was followed by a general inspection of all woodlands in the vicinity of the public highways, along all cartroads, paths, and along the steam railroads within the limits of the town, as woodland gypsy moth colonies are usually started in such places, on account of the carrying of the caterpillars on vehicles of all kinds. This general inspection disclosed a number of new gypsy moth colonies both in the woodland and residential districts. Nearly all of these were in the vicinity of the older colonies, but several were in parts of the town heretofore not known to be infested.

The first work to be undertaken in the year 1908 will be on private property in the residential parts of the town, and will consist of the removal of worthless trees (especially hollow apple trees which have outlived their usefulness and are simply a source of infestation), the trimming out of dead branches, and the closing of holes in trees which are worthy of preservation.

This will probably be followed by woodland work and the usual routine of burlap turning during the summer. The work during the past season has brought about great improvement in the gypsy moth colonies and a marked decrease in the number of brown-tails, especially in the residential districts.

Although there has been a slight spreading on the outskirts of many of the gypsy moth colonies, the total number of egg clusters in nearly all of these colonies is much less than it was last year. This spreading, while not entirely prevented has been much checked by constant attention to the burlaps during the summer.

By far the greatest expense connected with gypsy moth extermination is incurred in removing hollow trees, scraping off rough bark, trimming out dead branches, cutting and burning brush, and examining old tin cans and rubbish heaps. Yet without doing all this it is quite impossible to do anything like thorough work against the gypsy moth. Probably two-thirds of the infested orchards in Needham are composed, at least in part, of trees which are not a source of profit to their owner, but are simply sources of infestation, both to his trees and those of his neighbors. As long as these conditions exist, the fight against the gypsy moth must be prolonged indefinitely. With these conditions remedied and the other work of extermination carefully attended to, the gypsy moth may be practically exterminated in the residential districts in a few years and kept from doing serious damage in the woodlands, but this can be accomplished only by unremitting care and attention.

The work planned for the year 1908 in the residential districts is a thorough going over of all infested localities, the trimming up of holes in hollow trees, the pruning out of dead wood, the scraping off of rough loose bark and the removal of hollow and worthless trees.

While persons not experienced cannot expect to do effective work against the gypsy moth, they can aid greatly in the work of extermination by closely cutting and burning brush along the walls and fences, by removing useless trees, and by using the public dumps for tin cans and rubbish instead of throwing them among trees and brush where they become breeding places for the moths.

But all this must be carefully done, as the removal of tin cans and rubbish already infested, without first destroying the eggs, serves only as a source of fresh infestation and the chopping and removal of infested trees without taking the same precaution, serves only to scatter the eggs.

Probably the best method of disposing of infested tin cans and similar rubbish is by burying them, covering at least a foot deep with soil.

Persons doing work of this kind should first inform themselves of the best methods of proceeding, lest their efforts result in harm rather than good.

By doing these things carefully and properly, owners of infested land might save themselves much expense and annoyance.

The best way to destroy the eggs of the gypsy moth is to apply creosote with a small brush, taking care that the egg cluster is thoroughly saturated. This may be done from the time the leaves drop in the fall until the first of May.

The caterpillars may be destroyed from the middle of June until the latter part of August. This is best accomplished by tying strips of burlap around infested trees in such a way that they may be turned and the caterpillars found underneath may be crushed.

Spraying infested trees and shrubery with a solution of arsenate of lead when the caterpillars are quite small is also very effective.

The burlaping is much more effective on trees from which the rough loose bark has been scraped and all holes closed, because if the insects have places of this kind to hide in they are less likely to go under the burlap.

For the same reasons it is necessary to cut away brush and remove cans and other rubbish from near the trees.

In the case of badly infested woodlands it is better to cut the trees and treat all eggs with creosote before removing the wood, to burn all brush and dead wood on the ground, allowing the fire to run over the ground, so that every inch of the surface is burned over and all the insects destroyed.

If any of the insects are left alive the small growth which comes up, becomes infested, making conditions worse than before, as it is much harder to fight the gypsy moth in brush than in trees.

The destruction of the brown-tail consists simply in cutting the winter webs from the ends of the branches and burning them.

Pamphlets containing full information on this subject may be had by applying to the local superintendent.

Respectfully submitted,

E. E. RILEY,

Local Superintendent of Moth Work.

Report of Inspector of Wires

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN: — I respectfully submit the following report for the period since my appointment, to wit, from June 1, to Dec. 31, 1907.

As suggested by you, I proceeded to place this office on a business basis, and adopted newer methods. Contractors and others who propose to install electrical work are supposed to apply for "Notice Blanks" which this department furnishes, and send them in when their work is ready for inspection. But if any work is done without notice to the inspector, it might be connected by the company supplying current, without inspection. To prevent this I notified the company supplying current, that they were not to supply with electricity any installation until they had asked for a certificate of approval, which would be given them after an inspection of the premises had been made and the same found to be satisfactory. By this system every installation is sure to be inspected before the electricity is supplied. In the old way some of the work done was never inspected or seen by the inspector before or after the current was turned on.

The certificates are in book form, and for each one issued a stub is kept which is a record of the buildings inspected.

In regard to the street lighting, I can only say that much rebuilding is necessary at once. All the circuits are overloaded, the wire is too small and the insulation is poor, the poles are decayed; many of them are liable to fall at any time and most of the lighting fixtures are rusted and worn out. About one hundred of the old fixtures have been replaced with new ones. Also the old Westinghouse brass sockets have been replaced with Edison base porcelain ones as fast as the old sockets give out.

As a great many of our lights and wires run on the poles of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., the Edison Electric Illuminating Co., the Postal Telegraph Co., and the Railroad company, it would only be necessary to change the fixtures and wire to a larger size when rebuilding this part of the system.

The lighting system in use in the town is what is known as the Westinghouse shunt box system, which is out of date. The new systems now installed are the series alternating and do not require shunt boxes. New fixtures with copper hoods and deflectors and porcelain sockets would last for years and would not cost as much as the old style with shunt boxes

Fifteen thousand dollars will put the old system in good shape and also add about twenty-five additional lights where needed.

New lights have been added on the following streets: Bradford street, six lights, from Dedham avenue to Great Plain avenue; Oak street, five lights, from Chestnut street to Linden street; South street, nine lights, from Chestnut street to Mr. Williams' estate; Maple terrace, one light, from John Twigg's house to Maple street.

The following material for repairs, etc., to street lighting, is on hand, worth about $300.00:

Seventy-five large street series incandescent sockets.

Seventy-five large base, 25 C. P. series lamps.

Two thousand feet 6 T. B. weatherproof wire.

Sixty high tension street fixtures, with copper hoods and porcelain deflectors.

About twenty-five cross-arms, different sizes.

Insulators, iron braces, etc.

Tools for setting poles and doing line work.

As the system was in very bad shape when I was appointed, it was necessary to repair the bad places at once. As there was not enough money appropriated to do all that was necessary to be done, we did what was absolutely needed and let the rest go. Before we were able to get around to some places, at least twelve poles fell down, ten of which were carrying over 2,200 volts. The town has been very fortunate in escaping accidents with the street lighting in such a condition. The last day of 1907 a pole fell down in Charles River which was carrying 2,300 volts alive on it. Some children were near the pole but kept away from the wires. We placed a new pole as soon as possible. I state this case merely to show how necessary it is that something be done at once.

Letters have been written to me in regard to the wires burning trees, but we trimmed out all we could with the money allowed. $300 should be allowed to trim out around the wires this year.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLARD B. COOKSON,

Inspector of Wires.

Jan. 7, 1908.

Report of the Superintendent of Fire Alarm

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN: The fire alarm system of Needham last June, when the writer was appointed superintendent of fire alarms, was found to be in a badly run down condition. On assuming the office I personally examined all of the system and have made such repairs as were absolutely necessary, such as putting in several stretches of new wire, new pins and insulators wherever needed. Several bad grounds on the system were discovered which have been removed.

Much new wire, approximately twelve miles, is necessary to put the line in first class shape. The department has about forty miles of wire and for such a large system it would seem advisable to install a repeater, whereby if one section of the line should be disabled the remainder of the system would be in an operative condition.

As many of our wires are in close proximity with those of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, it is absolutely necessary that the old bare wire in use be removed and new insulated wire substituted.

To put the system as a whole into such shape as it ought to be will cost from five to six hundred dollars, and at the first available opportunity a repeater costing $1,200 should be installed. Respectfully submitted,

WILLARD B. COOKSON,
Superintendent of Fire Alarm.

Twenty-Second Annual Report of the Needham Fire Department

FIRE DEPARTMENT HEADQUARTERS,
NEEDHAM, MASS., DEC. 31, 1907.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN: I herewith submit the twenty-second annual report of the Needham Fire Department. The total loss by fire and water for year 1907 was $2,838.00. Total insurance on property endangered, $17,000.00. Insurance paid on property damaged or destroyed, $2,763.00. Amount of loss on property not covered by insurance $150.00. Number of fires in frame structures, 10; number of chimney fires, 2; fires caused by children, 4; fires caused by carelessness, 5; incendiary fires, 1; sparks from engines, 4; the remainder were from un-unknown causes.

The number of bell alarms, 21; still alarms, 4; telephone calls, 2; unnecessary alarms, 2. During the year the department have rendered 857 hours service, citizens, 44 1-2 hours service. Number feet of hose laid, 4,450 feet; ladders used, 125 feet; chemicals used, 111 gallons; number of men at present time, 44; number feet of hose in department, 6,300 feet.

The new combination wagon purchased this year went into commission Aug. 20, located at Station No. 1, and hereafter will be known as Combination Co. No. 1. The old wagon that has been in service 17 years, has been thoroughly overhauled and painted, and will be located at Charles River, which will go into commission about Feb. 1. A company will be organized and known as Hose Co. No. 1. All the rest of the apparatus is in good repair. Owing to the erection of several new dwellings in the location of Webster and May streets, I would recommend a fire alarm box in that locality.

Respectfully submitted,

H. A. KINGSBURY,

Chief of Fire Department.

As a large number of families have taken up their residence in the town during the past year it seems advisable to repeat the information given in previous reports in regard to the privileges of the library. The following is quoted from my report of last year: "The special arrangement, allowing teachers and students to take out a number of non-fiction books at a time, is extended to ALL persons who have special reading in view. The number of books that may be taken out is not limited, except in cases where there is a demand for the same books. Besides books of reference to be found in the reading-room, any one may call for as many books as they desire from the shelves in the stock room for reference work. All shelves are open to the patrons except fiction. For the convenience of persons not wishing to make out a list of book numbers, a number of volumes of fiction, new and old, are kept on the desk, where such persons may make selections without delay.

Teachers are urged to co-operate with the librarian in directing the young in the choice of books. The teachers can do more in this direction than the librarian, since they have direct charge of the children, and can prescribe courses of reading in connection with their studies. But it is necessary that the teachers should become acquainted with the books to be found in the library. For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with the library, we would say: that aside from a really good collection of history, biography, literature, sociology, etc., there are practical books for builders, plumbers, masons, roadmakers, landscape gardeners, fruit-growers, etc. This list would be gladly added to, if there was a demand."

The library has been frequently complimented by persons who have access to libraries in other and larger towns on the very creditable collection of books covering history, biography, travel, etc., and it is a matter of regret that there is so little call for books of that class. If more patrons could find time to visit the library themselves and become acquainted wtth these books, I think that they would be surprised to find how many interesting things are there. It would have the effect of increasing the demand for such works and raising the standard of reading.

We shall be glad to receive any suggestions in regard to additions of useful books for the library.

Respectfully submitted,

RIELLA J. DUNN, Librarian.

*During 1907 the trustees of the library have economized as much as possible in order to have money for certain special expenditures contemplated in the new year, without asking the town for special appropriations. This is the explanation of the unusually large balance, which at the town meeting in January was turned into the treasury, and $240 returned to the library as an appropriation. The restoration of the remainder, $45, will be requested in March.

Report of the School Committee

Following the custom of the board of school committee for many years, this report is submitted as a report of progress in the educational work of the town.

The report of the superintendent of schools, herewith appended, covers the detail work in all departments.

With the advance in cost of all kinds of commodities, the committee find the cost of all supplies used in the schools, and all work connected with the same, increased: and added to this is the steady growth of our schools, calling for more teachers, more room, and more books and supplies. The appropriations made by the voters of the town have always been liberal, and granted ungrudgingly. This, of itself, speaks in positive terms of the desire that the public schools shall be maintained on liberal and progressive lines. The results shown by former committees are incentives to continue thorough work, and your present committee have endeavored in every way to show results comparing favorably with the past.

The many perplexities arising in the administration of school affairs call for time and patience, work and worry. Matters of varied importance must all be considered, each on its own merits, and it has been the desire of the committee to obtain a comprehensive view of each question and arrive at a decision that to them seems best for the school as a whole.

The only sure test of the schools is by results, and the committee feel the town has obtained results that should be gratifying, as well as satisfactory and permanent. The committee have felt the responsibility attached to their position. While the finished product of a mechanic may be unfitted for its purpose, the mistake can be rectified, but the finished product of our schools must measure up to the standards set by an exacting world, and mistakes can never be fully remedied.

The important work of shaping the mental and moral life of children is a responsibility that should be constantly impressed upon the teacher, and to a marked degree this is fully realized by the teachers now in our schools. It is their duty to make, so far as in them lies, good men and good women as well as good scholars.

The town has had for the past year the whole time of the superintendent, and Mr. Putney has devoted his time and energy to mastering the details of his duties, and of the prevailing conditions. That a change of this importance could be effected without any appreciable retrogression speaks well for our schools, and also for the conservativeness and ability of our superintendent It should always be kept in mind by parents that the schools are for their children; that the education their children obtain is the one important matter in town government, and they should discourage all attempts at sensationalism to descry our schools. No good can result from biased and partisan attacks. It is the quiet, steady working of the school which counts, and noisy and persistent attacks upon the management of this important department of town administration are not always actuated by the best of motives.

The conditions of the school buildings are satisfactory, with the exception of the High school After several conferences with experienced men, the committee are of the opinion that some alteration should be made on the roof so as to prevent the leaks, which show after every severe storm. The slates should be relaid upon the hips, and copper flashings laid in the valleys, so as to prevent the snow and ice accumulating, thus forcing back the water. From estimates obtained, the cost will be about one thousand dollars, and until some permanent change is made, the cost of maintaining the interior appearance of the building will be steadily increasing.

The Eliot school has now more pupils than can be accommodated in two rooms, and the matter of increased school room is now being considered by a special committee appointed at the July town meeting, and they will doubtless make a report with recommendations at the annual meeting.

The committee have found it necessary to increase the salaries of the teachers, and have raised the maximum from $460 to $500 per year, for the grades from five to nine, both inclusive. The maximum of the assistants in High school has been advanced from $600 to $750. By means of this increase the committee are in hopes to retain the teachers for a longer time than has been the case the past few years.

In this connection we desire to express our condemnation of the practice of superintendents of schools visiting neighboring towns, and hiring teachers away, who are to all appearance satisfied with their positions. If a manufacturer should visit the establishment of a competitor and hire his skilful operatives, the practice would be censured in unmeasured terms, and would not be tolerated. Why should a superintendent be allowed free access to our schools, and induce teachers to change? No teacher can accomplish good work in a single term, and the hiring of a new teacher is weakening to the whole system. The teachers would be better and the schools very much better if after a season of probation, with satisfactory results, the teacher should be held by contract for the school year. If this change could be adopted by school boards throughout the state, every town would be greatly benefited. The present system, to say the least, is detrimental to the best interests of all concerned, and surely school administration and practice should be on as high a plane as mercantile affairs.

The ordinary expenses will be increased for the year 1908, by about $3000 including the charge for transportation, making the amount to be asked for at the March meeting $22,000, and the tuition for pupils. If any alterations or additions are to be made as suggested above, then an additional amount will be needed.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM G. MOSELEY,
HORACE A. CARTER,
ADELINE E. HARRIS.

Report of the Superintendent

To the School Committee of Needham :

I herewith submit to you the annual report of the public schools.

Nothing out of the general run of work has been attempted and I am pleased to report progress in all departments of the public schools. The responsive effort of the child has followed the conscientious aim of the teacher and the results have been profitable indeed.

CONGESTIONS RELIEVED

By the occupancy of a part of the assembly hall at the High school building a congestion has been relieved for the time being. Forty desks and seats have been placed there so that the hall now has to be used for recitations as well as for assembly purposes.

In the Eliot school a similar congestion has been relieved temporarily by the removal of grades six and seven to the Avery building at Needham Heights. This in turn made it necessary to place grades eight and nine of the Avery school in separate rooms, thus reoccupying a fifth room in the old building.

VISITS OF PARENTS

I am glad to report the attendance of so many parents at school on the special visiting days when the fine quality of work was so admired and appreciated. It is the wish of superintendent and teachers alike that more of the parents could find time to visit the school room when it is a busy workshop with the regular work going on, so that they might as well appreciate the hard and thorough work done by both children and teacher to bring about such fine results.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

The school attendance has been very good and Needham stands high in the statistical records of the state. The teachers have worked for and obtained the cooperation of most of the parents, yet here and there is to be found a lack of care in allowing children to be absent or tardy for reasons that would be admitted to be insufficient if the parents would consider them for a moment.

I hope to be able to state in the next annual report still fewer cases of absence without good excuse and a still greater spirit of cooperation between teacher and parent in this matter of school attendance.

CHANGES AMONG TEACHERS

The better financial inducements of other towns have caused Needham to lose many teachers; yet those who have filled the vacancies have taken hold of the work so well that the schools did not suffer appreciably at the start and soon were doing full quota of work in regard to both quality and quantity.

Ambitious improvement has not alone been responsible for the changes that have occurred in the teaching force. Miss Madella Buck of the Kimball school was obliged to resign because of illness. She was faithful and conscientious and one whose influence upon the children was remarkably good. Miss Florence Evans, appointed in September as assistant in the High school, was obliged to resign because of illness after a period of work so brief that we did not have an opportunity to get well acquainted with it. Miss Carrie M. Evans of the Avery school resigned after a service of more than thirty years in public school work, the last five of which were in Needham. Miss Evans won a host of friends during her work, and our best wishes are hers for a long life of deserved rest and happiness.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE

Following the requirement of the statute calling for the appointment of school physicians, Drs. Miller and Mitchell were chosen and have served to the decided advantage of the schools. No attempt has been made to force the services of any particular physician upon a child found to be ill, but in each case the child has been referred to his family doctor.

I allude to this to correct an error that has been made by some parents in supposing that the school physician is to administer treatment. The duties of the school physician asset out by law are, in brief, to see that the good health of the children attending school is kept; to prevent any possible epidemic of disease; and to guard against trouble with the sanitaries, basements, and all other places so apt to become neglected.

All of this has been done; yet here again is lacking the cooperation necessary for the accomplishment of the very best results. Some of the parents seem to look with displeasure upon such innovations and fail to realize that they are placed in the schools only after the most careful deliberation by men who have made it their life work to study what is best for the health of the child.

ATTENTION TO DEFECTS OF EYES AND EARS

It is found necessary to lay much stress upon the duty of teachers and parents to watch carefully for signs of trouble with the eyes and ears. The teachers are in a position to best note defects; they should have frank and frequent talks with the parents and not let the work cease when they send home the regulation card of notification. Therefore if the teachers do not make this a personal matter, the delay, however short, in correcting the defect, may mean irreparable harm to the child physically as well as in his school work.

DISMISSAL IN LOWER GRADES

It has been an open question with educators in this State as to the best method of keeping the work of the lower grades up to the mark without so much individualizing in class time for the benefit of those who have lost a day or two and are consequently a bit behind in their work. It makes a drag upon the class to hinder its progress until the delinquent ones have caught up, and at the end of a term the teacher wonders why she has not accomplished all she had planned. In order to more thoroughly care for the individual needs of the children, there has been introduced a plan of dismissing those who do not need help, half an hour earlier once or twice a week, as occasion demands.

DRAWING

The excellent work in drawing from all grades has been appreciated by parents and visitors from out of town, and figuratively speaking, the children have opened our eyes to the possibilities of results that can be brought out under good instruction and supervision.

Not only has a mere interest in art been created, but the children are noticeably more careful about the appearance of all of their school work.

In the manual work, an hour each week is devoted to tool-leather work, basketry, sewing, etc., all of which teach the child how to use hands and brain, correlatively, to the best advantage.

MUSIC

The value of music is not confined to the cultivation of the voice as a mere pleasure. The effect upon the general work is noted where a good musical training has been had.

While there has been no material change in the course of music during the year, the aim has been toward constant improvement. Rote singing, ear training, dictation and sight singing have formed the basis of work in the lower grades; and these are supplemented by part singing and technical study in the upper grammar grades and high school. The usual high standard of excellence was maintained in the concert work at the grammar and high school graduations.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS

We are indebted to merchants and manufacturers from the south and west as well as our own State, for practical exhibits of different industries of our country. Cotton, gourds, cocoa, chocolate, flour, paper, oil, products from the sea, minerals, shells from the Gulf of Mexico, the famous hanging moss from the southern States, etc., etc., are now seen as real objects by the children, and the true worth, along educational lines, is greatly increased when study in geography is taken up in subjects which can be illustrated by these exhibits.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

With the addition of another teacher comes a strengthening still further of an already fine high school. We have been, indeed, fortunate in the selection of Mr. Clarence E. Sibley, as principal. Mr. Sibley is a graduate of Dartmouth college, class of '98, and comes to us well prepared by nine years of experience, to handle the work with confidence and efficiency.

The privilege of sending graduates to college without examination is one that is not enjoyed by every high school, and we have no fear but what this privilege will be extended to us for some years to come. Graduates of the school are now attending Dartmouth, Amherst, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Harvard, and other colleges outside of New England.

There has been a membership of one hundred and forty since September, the freshman class of fifty-eight being the largest in the history of the school. Two only, have severed their connection with their classes; one boy left to enter the training ship, Enterprise, and one girl moved from town. The fact that not a pupil has left since September for other causes, speaks well for the wholesome and splendid atmosphere that pervades the school.

I should recommend in the high school a strengthening of the rules governing required studies. While at times more convenient to allow pupils to make up in the senior or junior years, work in which they failed in the first or second years, the tendency is to pile up work so that the child cannot do justice to himself or his work, as occurred in a case called to my attention this fall, in which twenty-five periods of work had to be accomplished in order to get a diploma. Comparing this with the average weekly work of sixteen periods, the burden under which the pupil is laboring is readily seen to be anything but light.

Therefore, I recommend that in the future, work shall be made up in the year following failure.

THE BUSINESS COURSE

Inasmuch as a good business course has been established, and as it is our duty to keep this department in high standing, I recommend that the work of the first two years shall be made equal in value to that of the college, normal and technical courses. When we shall have done this we shall have anticipated the movement that has started throughout the state to make high schools produce graduates from the business course, whose all round education shall be equal to that of graduates of other departments. This can be done only by making the requirements for the first two years practically the same in all departments. I wish also to call your attention to the need, coming very soon, of another teacher in this department, the growth here being such that it is almost impossible for one teacher to handle the entire work.

THE VALUE OF A HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION

A large percent of the graduates of the grammar schools enter High school yet when we stop to consider how changed have become the demands from business men along educational lines, it does seem that the importance of the High school, should be fully emphasized at all times.

The same positions filled ten or fifteen years ago by grammar school graduates, now demand that the applicants shall have had a High school education. The teachers of the upper grammar grades have worked hard during the last year to encourage pupils to at least think of the High school and the results have been very gratifying, the present entering class of the High school being twenty-seven more than last year. Of this number the increase from the Avery school has been ten, and from the Kimball twelve. The remainder of the increase results from new families moving into town.

SPELLING

Graded spelling books were placed in the schools last spring to replace the old word lists that had become worn out from good and constant use. The results have been entirely satisfactory and the work in this line I find to have improved.

COURSE OF STUDY

I wish to call to your attention the need of a new course of study. The present course, both as a mere catalogue and as a basis for work, has lost its once high value. When this course was compiled, it was based upon text books that have since become replaced by others now considered of more educational value. Some of the ideas expounded in the old course have gone through the experimental stage and have passed out of use. Therefore it has been necessary for me to begin work upon a new course. At the suggestion of one member of the State Board of Education, I shall prepare leaflets to be placed in the teachers' hands for a thorough working out. When the course is finished, all errors corrected, and the work well correlated, I shall place in your hands a copy with a recommendation that it be printed so that it may be kept in a permanent form.

AIM IN WORK

No pains have been spared to keep the work unified, having the same grades in the different schools progress at practically the same pace throughout each term; to emphasize the necessity and value of thoroughness in all work, both on the part of teacher and pupil and in the progress; and to exact from the new teachers the same high standard of work that characterizes that of the older and more experienced teachers.

It is the aim of every superintendent of schools approved by the State board of education, to uphold the highest standards of education, being conservative about introducing changes and radical in working for the very best interests of the children. That has been my aim. I found upon entering into my work as superintendent of the Needham schools, one of the best of foundations. I shall endeaver to have my work in keeping with what has already been done by my predecessor, and to meet new demands with a view toward ever strengthening the work, my sole purpose being to give to the children the very best of educational advantages.

The fact that we have lost teachers within the past year to Brockton, Malden, Fall River and Somerville, speaks for itself of the high quality of the teaching force, and with the increased maximum of salary which takes effect in January, I hope to be better able to retain teachers of such calibre.

CONCLUSION

Whatever degree of excellence of work that may be attained in the schools of any town, is due to the efficient, hearty, and cordial response on the part of the teachers to the wishes of the superintendent. I bear this in mind as I conclude my report by thanking them, the parents and the committee for their support given me in this, my first year as superintendent of the Needham public schools.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER K. PUTNEY.

Eighteenth Annual Report of the Water Commissioners

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Needham, Massachusetts:

The board of water commissioners herewith submit their eighteenth annual report, for the year ending December 31, 1907.

At the annual town meeting in March, Mr. Edmund G. Pond was re-elected water commissioner for a term of three years.

The board organized by electing Mr. William Carter chairman, and appointing George A. Adams, clerk.

EXTENSIONS

In accordance with a vote of the town, we have exended the water main in Forest street from Brookside road to the last house near the Wellesley line.

And under a guarantee the main was laid in Norfolk street, from Webster street to the house of Charles H. Sutton.

The main was also extended in Rosemary street, from opposite the Isaac Kingsbury house, to the house of W. A. Hartwell, and Warren street from the Brion house to the right-of-way of the new railroad.

The extension on Greendale avenue, voted by the town, we were unable to make, owing to the late arrival of the pipe, but will be attended to as soon as the condition will warrant.

For distances see superintendent's report.

PROTECTION OF WATER SUPPLY

Early in the spring, Mr. George B. Haven purchased a lot of land adjoining the town's lot in the vicinity of the Hicks' springs, intending to build a residence thereon, and came before your commissioners to ascertain if there were any restrictions on the land in that vicinity, or if he should build a house on the land, would it in any way pollute or injure this part of the town's water-supply, thereby rendering him liable for damages now or in the future? As it was difficult to decide a future subject in the present, and to foretell to just what extent it might pollute the water, it was deemed advisable, after several conferences in justice to Mr. Haven and for the best interests of the town, to purchase not only his land, but also the remaining plot between the town lot and Harris avenue, and thereby remove, as far as possible, all liability of pollution to the town's auxilliary water-supply.

In April, we purchased from Mr. Haven the block of land of nine lots, bounded by the town land, Mayo street, Harris avenue and the Harris land, containing about two acres, and from Mr. Walter C. Harris, blocks E and F of twenty-one lots bounded by the town land, Haven land, Harris avenue, and the land owned by Mrs M. M. Ham, containing about six and three-fourths acres.

The town lot now contains about sixteen acres, and extends from Dedham avenue to Harris avenue, and from Mrs. Ham's land to Glen road and Mayo street, with the exception of one lot of 20,760 feet, on which the "Glover House" stands. It was expected that the water department would have a chance to purchase this lot from the "Glover estate," as it was left by him for the benefit of the town, but it was sold before we knew it was upon the market.

BONDS

The town in July voted to issue fifteen thousand dollars in four percent. water-loan bonds, but owing to the condition of the money market the bonds have not been sold, the necessary funds having been procured by a loan, in anticipation of their sale.

Bonds to the amount of six thousand five hundred dollars have matured and been paid during the year.

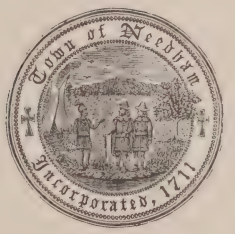
TOWN OF NEEDHAM, MASS.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

ASSESSORS



FOR THE YEAR 1907

NEEDHAM
THE CHRONICLE PRESS
1908

Assessors' Report

In submitting the usual table of aggregates, etc., we desire to call the attention of property owners to the increase in the totals. Since the opening of the new railroad, with its quickened service and additional trains, Needham seems to have taken a step forward and we felt that the changed conditions fully warranted an advance in the valuation of land in about every part of the town. We are pleased to say that the sales made since May 1, fully justify our action. A large number of new buildings were erected during the year so that our summary of real estate values shows the phenomenal gain of $596,750.

More returns of personal property were made than in previous years, our gain being $85,961. The total addition to the valuation of 1906 is $682,711. Although confronted with the largest tax levy in the history of the town, we were able to reduce the rate fifty cents to eighteen dollars per thousand. We are still above the average and it would help our future growth quite a little if we could further reduce the rate.

We do not look for a like increase in property next year, and it behooves the taxpayers to see to it that appropriations are conservatively made and no project entered into which will require a large outlay of money until our fixed charges are more in keeping with our means.
